MOBILIZING RECOVERY PRACTICES AND LOCAL COALITIONS WORKSHEET

Transforming Youth Recovery
One Community, One School, One Student At A Time

Contact Name	Community Asset	Date Contacted	Practices (List)	Causes (List)
			Write down all potential activities that could be done with this person, group or organization. Underline those that you try and BOLD those that benefit the community. For those activities that you BOLDED, see if you can discover what made them beneficial.	During the course of relationship-building it will become apparent "why" certain individuals or organizations are interested in engaging with the recovery community. This can be because of a relationship or personal history, it could be because of a specific cause or injustice, or it could be simply to support a positive movement on campus. It could be many and multiple things at once – but the cause that motivates people can be summed into a few succinct words, and captured below.
Example 1	University Ministries	January 2013	Residential Life Discussion Series Guest Speaker	Morally it is the right thing to do
Example 2	Career Services	February 2013	Resume Workshop	It is good for the university
Example 3	Health Facilities	February 2013	Nutrition Classes	Impacting people one at a time
Example 4	Law Faculty	March 2013	Legal Assistance and Referrals (1:1)	Offering second chances is the right thing to do

© Transforming Youth Recovery. August, 2013